Students Find Apples A-PEELing!

This is juicy news! Taylor Road Elementary students enjoyed a beautiful day at Lynd's Fruit Farm. Highlights from the field trip included apple picking, apple eating, learning about Johnny Appleseed, apple eating, learning about apple seeds, apple eating, watching and learning about how apples are processed and made into other things like apple cider, and apple eating. Many core standards were covered.

Taylor Road First Graders Prepare for Pajama Party

Mrs. Benedict and our fabulous first graders are getting ready for their musical, "Pajama Party." A command performance for parents and family members will take place on October 27th at 1:30pm in the TRE Commons. The show, which is rated PJ, is rumored to be the sleeper hit of the year! Parents: don't forget to fill out and turn in your reservation form so that we have enough seats for all audience members.

You're not seeing double! Taylor Road 4th grade "twins" including Mrs. Ripple proudly wore their "Stop Bullying" shirts for Twins Day. We like how they look alike!

BOOK FAIR COMING SOON!

It's almost here! One of Taylor Road's favorite weeks starts October 17th when the Book Fair begins! Mrs. Barker will soon transform the TRE Library into our very own Barnes and Noble. In addition to the students' visits to the Book Fair during the week, TRE families can shop during "Trunk or Treat" on Oct. 17th and during parent-teacher conferences on Oct. 20th. If you are interested in helping at our Book Fair, please go to:

www.scholastic.com/bf/taylorroad for more information. Thank you for supporting Taylor Road Elementary!

Get your science on and join us for COSI on Wheels! We need parent volunteers for a fun day of hands-on learning. Contact Mrs. Love if you can help for a half or whole day!
